There seems to be an insistent demand by many that the Coffee Club of Campbell shall be opened again this summer; this desire is voiced not only by the fruit workers themselves, but by those who consider it the sanest and most practical substitute for drinking places. One of the workers confidently asserts that it is the best place in the world to make comfortable and happy those who need its help.

On Wednesday, April 19th, the Union will meet with Mrs. Chas. Gilman and any who are in favor of this project will be welcome to attend.

The Campbell Coffee Club has held a position unique, in the "homey" atmosphere and kindly spirit manifested by its care-takers.

When the fruit-workers are ill or worn out, they are made comfortable through the kindly ministrations of the women in charge.

A prominent man in Santa Clara county was once asked what he considered the most useful institution in the county, and he promptly replied "The Coffee Club". It is an encouraging sign in this 20th century that rest rooms and recreation rooms, for both men and women workers, also parks and playgrounds for the children, are being greatly multiplied, throughout the world.

It denotes the kindly expression of a kindly spirit in a somewhat sordid business age. Since it does so much good in so many ways, we believe our people will generally be willing to aid in the erection of the new building proposed.

An architect has drawn up a plan for a new building and a carpenter is estimating the cost of lumber and so on.

Annual Roll Call

The members of the Methodist church held their Annual Roll Call meeting last Friday night at the Y. M. C. A. hall. A splendid dinner was enjoyed, after which 83 of the 181 members answered to their names. Last year 69 out of 149 were present; the previous year 77 out of 133. The figures show an increase of 48 members in two years.

A number of impromptu speeches were listened to and then the pastor brought up the subject of the new church building. The plan of the committee to construct a new auditorium on a corner lot was proposed by the committee and received the hearty endorsement of the meeting. A financial plan was endorsed and the first two shares of $10 each was announced as taken and paid for by W. L. Woodrow of First M. E. church of San Jose. R. Allison was appointed as secretary of the building fund.

Since the above mentioned meeting more definite plans have been received from the architect, showing the probable costs, etc.

A committee of three was appointed last Wednesday night to "feel" the pulse strings of the members and obtain some idea of what amount of money can be raised. $4000 or $4500 will put up a modern structure on the northwest corner of Campbell avenue and First street, which location is available if the money can be secured.

Mrs. Frances Smithers, who has been at the County Hospital for the last three months, died last Friday and was buried there. She was 52 years old last November. She left three sons, Roy, Walters and Edgar, of Campbell.

One week from Easter night, on the evening of the 23rd, the Pastor of the Congregational church will give a stereopticon evening on "The Romance of the Bible." It being the 300th Anniversary of the printing of the King James Version.

Mrs. and Mrs. Archibald and daughter Letitia, who formerly lived on Cypress avenue, now in British Columbia, have been visiting friends in this community the past few days. The last two months were spent at Santa Cruz and Pasadena. There is some prospect of their return to Campbell, their many friends here will be pleased to learn.

George C. Payne left yesterday for Oregon, where he will spend the rest of April and May grafting walnuts for the Oregon Agricultural College and Fred Groner, who has large interests at McMinville. Mr. Payne has had nearly 20 years' experience in this line of work, and for two years worked for Luther Burbank, who says Mr. Payne is one of the best grafters in the country.

Campbell Students Win Debate

Resolved, That the Issuing of Injunctions by Federal Courts Should be Forbidden by Congress

For the third time the high school has defeated Palo Alto in debate; the first time last spring, the second time this fall and for the third time last Saturday night. The debate was a good one and well worth listening to, for the topic was a hard one (that of injunctions in labor disputes) the speakers on both sides showed quite a grasp of the essential points at issue and presented them in a clear and convincing way. The team who met the Palo Alto debaters here consisted of George Beaver and Esther Smith, with Howard Bean as alternate. As regards the number of points they tied with the Palo Alto team, but as two of the judges gave their decision for Palo Alto, they got the debate. At Palo Alto, where we were represented by Russell Downing and Muriel Palmer, with Byrona Bennett as alternate, the Campbell team won with enough points to put Campbell in the lead when the totals were reckoned up. The debating enthusiasts in the school look forward with a great deal of enthusiasm to the winning of a place in the championship contest, which will take place during the next two months. The constitution of the Debating League provides that the two schools that make the highest total of points in the Fall and Spring series of debates will debate for the championship of the League. As the points now stand the Campbell Union High School will contest with the San Jose High School for the championship of the League. It is certainly quite an honor to the Campbell High School that she stands so well among the schools of the League, which comprises Palo Alto, San Jose, Redwood City, Los Gatos and Santa Clara.

Political Equality Club

According to a recent news letter the friends of equal suffrage at Los Angeles are getting exceedingly busy. They are to have a suffrage paper, small but mighty. It will be published by the press committee of the Political Equality League, and will be sold on the streets with other papers. The first publication will appear within the next ten days.

Precinct teas are the ultra-fashionable thing in Los Angeles. At these teas the hostess discusses suffrage matters with her guests, and each of the ladies present pledge themselves to interest a certain number of voters in the suffrage amendment—Number Eight.

The suffragists of Los Angeles have hit on a novel organization to be called, "The First Voters' Club." It is composed of young men who will vote for the first time on Oct. 10th. The purpose of the suffragists is to enroll the new voters in support of the cause for which they are striving.

Senators Lee Gates and Leslie R. Hewitt have certainly made a hit with the women of California. The "Votes for Women Club" of Los Angeles are banqueting them both before and after the recent legislature. And we women of Campbell, altho we may not be able to catch a live senator, or assemblyman, have the voters at our mercy. When all classes of women, fashionable and unfashionable, join hands in a common cause, Heaven help the opposition!

The kindly editor of the Campbell Interurban Press has accorded us a space in his progressive paper, for which we owe him many thanks and hearty support of his paper.

SUMMARY OF PAST WEEK'S COAST NEWS

Interesting Events Among Our Neighbors in the Far West Reviewed.

What Has Transpired on the Border of the Broad Pacific From Alaska to Mexico.

Los Angeles.—R. N. Messer, aged 31, a cigar store clerk, died from a fractured skull, the result of an attack by a thug in Westlake Park.

Fruitvale, Oakland.—Arising to get a drink of water early in the morning, Louis Dutton sank suddenly to the floor and expired before his frightened wife could summon medical assistance.

Sacramento.—Governor announced the appointment of Dr. E. W. Burke and E. P. Clark as trustees of the Southern California State Hospital at Patton. Dr. Burke succeeds Francis M. Parker and Clark succeeds himself.

Stevenson, Wash.—Eli St. Martin, a half-breed Indian, son of the late Isidore St. Martin, late owner of the St. Martin's Springs, and one of the most wealthy Indians in the country, was run over and killed by a train. He had been drinking. His father was murdered here last year.

Redding.—Sixty cents on the dollar is the best the wrecked bank of Shasta county can pay its depositors who had $648,467 on deposit when the institution closed its doors. This was the report made to the depositors, several hundred of whom met in the theater to hear from a committee of their number.

Fresno.—Harry Dermer was sentenced by Judge Austin to eight years' imprisonment in Folsom for robbing William Davis of $3 last February, when his victim was intoxicated. Dermer has spent half his time in the county jail for petty offenses during the last two years and is seemingly past reform.

Reno, Nev.—William Higuera, the 16-year-old assistant to Postmaster Horn of Aurora, Elko county, is in jail here, charged with and having confessed to the forging of $500 worth of postal money orders. He says that he cashed these orders at various places, but he professes not to know why he committed the crimes. He has been bound over to the Federal Grand Jury.

Los Angeles.—James J. Jeffries, former champion prize fighter of the world, has fallen a victim to the wiles of the "speed bug." He was arrested while speeding more than 38 miles an hour through Tropic, a suburb of this city. Justice of the Peace Melrose fined the former champion $25 and gave him a severe reprimand. The fine was suspended when Jeffries promised to speed no more.

San Francisco.—"There is not an apartment house or a tenement house in San Francisco that has not sufficient fire escapes at present," said Chief Engineer Murphy of the fire department. "Battalion Chief O'Brien has had that matter in charge. He inspects all buildings as they are completed and enforces the legal requirements as to stairways and fire escape arrangements. There is no danger of loss of life in that respect."

Sacramento.—Governor Johnson has signed the Wyllie local option bill, finally amended so as to provide for the supervisory unit of option, and the Held Assembly bill, the initiative, referendum and recall. The Held act for county direct legislation provides that 20 per cent of the voters at the previous election for Representatives in the lower House of the National Congress shall be sufficient to initiate legislation and a similar percentage for the recall of county officers.

Los Angeles.—Leaping from the head of a long freight train on the Southern Pacific tracks in Alameda street, three negroes, armed with revolvers, rushed into the store conducted by a Japanese, held up the proprietor's wife, who was the sole occupant of the place, and took $50 from the cash register. The negroes then ran out of the place, boarded the rear end of the same train and escaped. The men were later reported to have held up and robbed a man a few blocks from the store.

INSURRECTO CHIEF MADERO DECLARES DIAZ MUST QUIT

Peace Pact is Futile so Long as Diaz,
Refuses to Follow His Cabinet.

Madero's Camp, near Chihuahua, Mexico.—A declaration that all talk of peace is futile so long as President Diaz refuses to resign, and that the recent Cabinet changes have served only to convince the Insurrectos of their ultimate success, was made by Francisco I. Madero Jr., the provisional President, in an interview in his camp here.

The interview was in amplification of one which he gave to the Associated Press a few days ago. He said he was confident of the "final triumph of arms in the overthrow of Diaz."

In all northern Mexico, he said, the Insurrecto movement was spreading, until now the Federal troops were confined to the garrison towns, "at which the Insurrectos were preparing to strike a decisive blow."

"Nothing has transpired since we took up arms to justify us in laying them down," said Madero.

"Mr. Limantour has said the people's wish for reforms, pacifically asked, would be granted. In December, 1909, I wrote to Mr. Limantour telling him a revolution would come if the Government did not grant a free ballot. That was asking for reforms pacifically. The answer was: 'To jail with all reformers!'"

"We took up arms and we mean to fight it out. The change in the Cabinet is something unheard of in Mexico before. It is a concession to an armed revolution. But it is not sufficient and it comes too late. It simply justifies us in our course and shows the Government's inability to crush us now."

"As to the Cabinet itself, it is somewhat of an enigma. It is an untried quantity. De la Barra is better than Creel, but De la Barra is without any prestige. He has done nothing in the past by which we may gauge his future. Sodi and Dominguez are less known."

Arbitration Peace Treaties.

Washington.—Representative Foster of Vermont, ranking minority member of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, predicts that arbitration treaties will be negotiated between four or five of the great powers of the world, the United States to take a leading part in the framing of the negotiations.

Foster named the United States, Great Britain, France and Japan as the powers who would enter into such agreements. Eventually, he said, the other powers of the world would be forced to take similar action.

Andrew Carnegie and Speaker Champ Clark held a short conference over the general subject of arbitration arrangements with England. Carnegie requested the conference, but neither of the parties to it would say what phase of the matter had been discussed.

Body of Guy Landsburg Found.

San Francisco.—Stripped of his coin and jewelry, with only a check payable to himself left on his person by the murderers, the body of Guy M. Landsburg, 24 years old, a real estate operator of Alameda, who disappeared on the Barbary Coast on the night of March 22d, after a tour of the city in company of four Alameda friends, was found floating in the bay off the foot of Van Ness avenue early Monday morning by a fisherman.

Robber on The Big Four.

Muncie, Ind.—A masked man, armed with a revolver, held up and robbed passengers in a vestibuled coach attached to a west-bound express train on the Big Four Railroad, a few miles east of here. After taking about $300 in cash the robber dropped off the rear platform as the train slackened speed to enter the city. Several shots were fired at him as he ran, but he escaped.

Does Big Business in Jail.

Seattle, Wash.—C. D. Hillman, millionaire real estate man, has decided to serve out his 20-day sentence at the county jail for having tampered with the jury after his lawyers had labored for several days in a futile effort to raise a bail bond amounting to $215,500. Hillman said that he did $12,000 worth of business in jail in one day.

Police Prosecuting Jews.

Moscow, Russia.—The police are prosecuting Jewish artisans, accusing them of engaging illegally in trade and threatening them with expulsion and the confiscation of their property. Those against whom action has been instituted, with their families, number 1000.

Socialists Having Inning.

Butte, Mont.—In the election in this city the Socialists swept the field, electing Mayor, City Treasurer, Police Judges and five out of nine Aldermen. Two years ago the Democrats elected every candidate in Silver Bow county.

Best Returns for the Money on California Farms

Washington.—The United States agricultural reports from 1898 to 1909 show the value of the four staple products per acre of the States from Ohio to the Dakotas to be as follows: Wheat, $11.25; oats, $9.38; barley, $10.99; hay, $9.67.

The best farm land in the Middle Western States is held at from $100 to $150 per acre, value being based upon a production of about 15 per cent gross of the valuation per acre.

In California there is really no well situated land that will not return 25 per cent to the acre. Irrigated alfalfa land that can be bought for $10 per acre is yielding almost 100 per cent gross a year in dairy produce.

"California lands are the cheapest in the United States," said J. E. Green, farm land expert. "All lands are valued in proportion to their yield, and in California, with her sunshine climate, her two, three and sometimes four crops a year, the farmer is making more money upon his actual cash investment than anywhere else in America. A 20-acre irrigated farm can be bought for $2500-$500 or $600 down and the balance in two, three or four years. Upon such a farm a man can care for 12 cows, which will net him in semi-monthly cream checks an average of $1200 a year. He can raise five hogs to the cow on the skimmed milk, or 60 in all, which net $10 each. This makes a cash income of $1800 per annum from an initial cash outlay of only $500 or 600 for the land.

"The result is," continued Green, "that farming people from all over the world are directing their attention to California. Some of these prospective buyers are figuring upon buying thousands of acres and subdividing them. Others are figuring upon buying four or five acres and raising chickens. Letters from all over the country are asking for information and many people are right now in correspondence with big ranch owners who are planning to sell their properties to syndicates for development. On the other hand some of the biggest farm division people in America are asking to locate suitable lands for irrigation and subdivision."

Sixty-Second Congress in an Extraordinary Session

Washington.—The extraordinary session of the Sixty-second Congress is now in session. What it will bring forth or when it will adjourn are matters of conjecture.

The Democrats took possession of the House and put Champ Clark in the Speaker's chair. In his speech accepting the honor, Clark warned the Democratic members that the eyes of the country were upon them; that the party was on trial and that it had an opportunity for the first time in 16 years to prove its worthiness for a still higher expression of confidence.

The shadow of the coming Presidential fight hovers about the Capitol, and there is no question but that maneuverers for political advantage will play an important part in the affairs of the House and Senate in the next few months.

William J. Bryan of Nebraska and Governor Harmon of Ohio were leading figures on the floor of the House on the opening day. Had Governor Woodrow Wilson been present the list of generally accepted Democratic possibilities would have been complete.

The Senate's opening was sedate, as usual. And while the leadership of the upper branch remains in Republican hands, the change in the personnel was almost as marked as in the House. Aldrich, Hale, Beveridge and others of both the regular and progressive factions were missed.

Republican leaders of the Senate have announced that there shall be no tariff legislation. They declare they are not alarmed at the threat of the Democrats to hold back reciprocity until action is secured on tariff bills.

This difference promises to soon bring the two branches into conflict. A legislative deadlock is predicted, and the length of the session seems to depend on how long the Democratic House will bombard the Republican Senate with general legislation bills.

From a political standpoint it is likely that one of the most important things the Democratic House will do will be to order an investigation of the departments and branches of the Government service. The Democrats claim there have been no such investigations for 20 years and that a saving to the people will result.

Madero Corralles Big Body of Mexican Troops in City

Chihuahua, Mexico, via Laredo, Tex.—Three thousand troops, representing the main strength of President Diaz' forces in northern Mexico, are "bottled up" in this city. It is the belief of the 700 Americans here that Francisco Madero, the Insurrecto President, is preparing to deliver a decisive stroke, with a view to bringing the insurrection to a crisis in this section.

The opinion expressed by the Americans is that with its present tactics of allowing its forces to be shut up in towns, the Mexican Government will never be able to suppress the insurrection; that the Insurrectos are gaining strength daily and that already they have extended their control over a far greater area than heretofore has been allowed to become well known.

Chihuahua, with 35,000 inhabitants, is believed to be well fortified. The churches, house-tops and other points of vantage are surmounted with breast-works and machine guns. The troops, mounted and headed by brassbands, frequently parade through the streets as if to impress the people with a feeling of security.

Many smaller towns in the interior are garrisoned by a mere handful of men. Just outside the city the Insurrectos are in great force.

Madero, with Orozco and 1200 Insurrectos, is at the Bustillos plantation, 60 miles west, where, surrounded by his staff, he has established a so-called capital.

Voters Elect Thirteen Women to Office in Colorado

Denver, Colo.—Thirteen women will hold important municipal offices in Colorado as a result of the recent elections.

Pueblo, the second largest city in the State, elected a woman auditor. Leadville, Telluride, Idaho Springs, Greeley and Montrose, all of them important places, elected women treasurers, as did also the smaller towns of Fairplay and Ridgeway.

Hold-Up Men Rob Passengers.

Los Angeles.—An incoming Glendale interurban car was held up by two men and 30 passengers and the motorman and conductor were robbed. The passengers were then ordered to leave the car and the motorman forced to run the car a mile into the city, where the robbers left it. The robbers are said to have secured several hundred dollars and all the watches from the passengers.

Railroads May Pay in Passes.

Sacramento.—Governor Johnson has signed Senate bill No. 1147, by Senator Stetson, amending the Railroad Commission act, this is the bill which gives the newspaper proprietors, editors, reporters and their families the right to accept passes on railroads in exchange for advertising space in newspapers. It also includes passes to secretaries of civic and promotion organizations when on trips in line with their duty.

RATES ON GREEN FRUIT REDUCED TO MARKETS EAST

California Fruits Will Reach New York
Markets on Chicago Rates.

Chicago.—Deciduous fruit growers in California will benefit from a reduction in freight rates to points east of Chicago, announced from the meeting here of the freight traffic representatives of the California lines.

By the decision of this meeting the Chicago rate of $1.15 on deciduous fruits blanketed to eastern defined territory, effecting a reduction of 25 cents per 100 pounds, or nearly 20 per cent, in the rate from California to New York. Hitherto the rate had been $1.15 to Chicago, and $1.40 to eastern seaboard points, with a graduating rate for intervening territory. Now the $1.15 rate is applied to all eastern points. At the same time an increase in the minimum carload is announced from 24,000 to 26,000 pounds. This increase in the minimum loading will not greatly affect shippers, who have been loading cars to their capacity. The establishment of the postage-stamp rate for eastern defined territory is a distinct gain for the deciduous fruit growers.

The roads represented at the meeting were the Southern Pacific, the Santa Fe, the Western Pacific and the Salt Lake line.

The new rate will go into effect after the usual filing with the Interstate Commerce Commission, or in ample time for the moving of this year's crop.

Postoffice Changes.

San Francisco.—The following post-office changes in San Francisco and other sections of California have been announced by Postmaster Arthur G. Fisk: Cameron and Teralta have been made money order offices; Alberta, Imperial county; Yam, Merced county, and Spa, Tulare county, have been established; Slippery Ford, El Dorado county, has been changed to Kyburz; Daunt, Tulare county, has been changed to Springville; Geneva, Merced county, to Planada; Floyd, Glenn county, has been discontinued, mail to Orland; city station No. 52 has been re-established at 950 Kearney street, Arnold Calegaris, clerk.

Land Entry Not Good.

Visalia.—Charles Fickert, District attorney of San Francisco, and five other persons filed entries in the United States Land Office here on valuable timber and stone lands in the Tehachapi mountains. After their departure for the north errors were discovered that may invalidate the entries. The law says that the land must be visited at a time not longer than a month before the filing of applications. Fickert and his companions, it is asserted, have not been on the ground since December 10th.

Claimed Poverty Had $8220.

Vallejo.—When John O. Sullivan, a man about 70 years of age, was taken to the local police station he claimed to be penniless. An examination later revealed several gold watches and $8220 in gold pieces sewed in the lining of his coat. The money weighed several pounds, but was so distributed that it caused no inconvenience to its owner. Sullivan claimed to be a prospector and proved his identity to the satisfaction of the police.

New Municipal Building Bombed.

Springfield, Mass.—Two explosions in the new municipal building, in process of construction, alarmed the residents of the city and did considerable damage. A big hole was blown in the masonry at the base of the tower of the new structure and windows in the police station adjoining were broken. The police believe that a charge was exploded against the tower.

Saved Fifteen in Runaway.

Erie, Pa.—Morris Colgrove, aged 15, an orphan, risked his life to rescue 15 children in a runaway at West Springfield. The children were being taken to their homes from school in a large wagon. When the horses ran away young Colgrove leaped on to the rear end of the wagon, crawled to the front and brought the horses to a stop.

CHANGE IN WOMAN'S LIFE

Made Safe by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Graniteville, Vt.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms, and I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved worth mountains of gold to me, as it restored my health and strength. I never forgot to tell my friends what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me during this trying period. Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my trouble public so you may publish this letter."—Mrs. CHAS. BARCLAY, R.F.D., Graniteville, Vt.

No other medicine for woman's ills has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine we know of has such a record of cures as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For more than 30 years it has been curing woman's ills such as inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains and nervous prostration, and it is unequalled for carrying women safely through the period of change of life.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

"One Man."
"I have a servant girl who is capable and good natured and whom I wouldn't willingly part with, but she troubles me one way," said Mrs. Clockley to a visitor. "She is a Finn and knows but a few words of English, so the arrival of anyone from a guest to a grocer boy is heralded by her footsteps and the solemn words:
"One man."
"It is laughable and vexing. I have to go all the way downstairs to ascertain who it is. I am thinking of having a series of mirrors put up to reflect the visitor's image upstairs. Or perhaps I can invent a conning tower such as submarines are equipped with."
"At any rate I shall never be able to stand it until she learns enough English to tell who wants me."

His Number.

It was his first time to use the telephone. He came into the one-horse store and called the keeper to one side and whispered to him that he would like to order a pair of shoes from a near-by town—over the phone.

"That's all right," assented the storekeeper. "Help yourself."

He did as he had seen others do—rang the bell and held the receiver to his ear.

"Number, please?" chirped exchange.

"Number twelve, brogans," was the prompt reply.—Judge.

What Fertilizers to Use.

The kind and amount of fertilizers which can be most economically used on a certain crop or on a certain soil, can be determined only by an actual test. No chemical analysis of either the soil or the plant will show this accurately. The kind of fertilizing needed will depend more upon the natural character of the soil, its previous treatment and its present mechanical condition, than upon the actual plant food taken up by the growing crop. The following suggestions as to the amount and composition of the fertilizers needed for different crops are based on the experience of experiment stations, and of successful farmers in different parts of the country. The figures here given represent the averages which have been found most profitable on ordinary soils in fair condition.

ARTICHOKE.

In the United States the tuberous root of a species of sunflower is called by this name, although it is in no sense an artichoke. The plant resembles the sun-flower in its habit, and is harder than the potato. It is an excellent root for hogs, as it yields from 400 to 600 bushels per acre, and the crop is grown with very little cost in the middle and southern states. Soil. This artichoke, so-called, requires about the same soil as the Irish or white potato, a rich loam neither heavy nor light. The crop stands drouth well, but will not flourish on a dry, hard clay.

Cultivation. The planting should be in drills four feet apart and two feet apart in the drill like that of potatoes, with about the same amount of seed, (from 8 to 12 bushels) per acre, cut in pieces like potatoes. Two cultivations are usually all that is needed, as the plants soon completely cover the ground.

Fertilizing. This, like all tuber crops, requires liberal potash fertilizing. Having in mind the manurial requirements of the crop, and the common experience with all tuber crops, a good fertilizer for it would be from 400 to 800 pounds of the following fertilizer:

Nitrogen 3%
Actual potash 8%
Available phosphoric acid, 7%

Suggestions. When the crop is matured, a few rows should be plowed out, selected, and saved for seed, which should be gathered and buried in the same manner as potatoes are sometimes stored, before the hogs are turned in to harvest the main crop. Many farmers will not grow artichokes for fear they will become troublesome weeds. This fear is not well founded, for a single plowing in midsummer after the old tubers have become exhausted, and before the new ones have formed, will completely destroy the plants.

Urbs in Rure.
Patent leather shoes were prominent among the Grangers, rather than boots. The only two men of our acquaintance who wear boots, except while engaged in farm labor, are both bankers. One of these men has a son who is a working farmer, and he wears patent leather shoes when he dresses up.—Maine Farmer.

Cultivate Contentment.
It is worth while to appreciate what you have. Crickets in the garden or a pair of crickets on the hearth are, in Italy, a luxury. Men used to go up and down the streets selling them to the owners of fancy villas and gardens. Here they sing their pleasant song to unheeding ears, for the most pay.

As He Thinketh.
"I have noticed," said Uncle Eben, "dat de man who gits so selfish dat he can't think o' nobody 'cep' hissef' generally looks like he was thinkin' of sumpin' disagreeable."

Today African Moslems number nearly sixty million, about one-third of the total population.

Baskets of raffia are most attractive receptacles for holding flowers. Those of birch bark, too, are used extensively this year.

Beware of good intentions that kick over the traces.

The Place of Sentiment.

Broadly speaking, while every man must be regarded as a unit, there are generally said to be three distinct subdivisions of his nature. These are the intellect, the sensibility and the will. By means of the intellect he apprehends knowledge and comprehends its nature, its bearings and relations, and by it he reasons. By sensibility he feels, loves and hates, is excited, jubilant or depressed, enjoys or suffers, aside from physical sensation. Sometimes the line is very close between intellect and sensibility. An appreciation of anything which is purely intellectual easily becomes admiration, running into a degree of pleasure which seems to be pure sentiment. By the will the other two are controlled and directed. It chooses objects upon which the intellect is to exercise itself, and directs the general course of its activities, and it has the capacity less seldom exercised to control the range and manifestation of the sensibility. For some reason there has always been a disposition not only to regard the intellect and the will as much more important than the sensibility, ranking it as the lowest of the three subdivisions, but to disparage and belittle it and cast reflections upon its activities and results. How often does one hear: "Oh! that is mere sentiment, that doesn't count," or "he is nothing but a sentimentalist!" As a matter of fact, it is sentiment that not only makes life worth while, but that moves the world.

The Fountain Head of Life Is The Stomach

A man who has a weak and impaired stomach and who does not properly digest his food will soon find that his blood has become weak and impoverished, and that his whole body is improperly and insufficiently nourished.

DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY makes the stomach strong, promotes the flow of digestive juices, restores the lost appetite, makes assimilation perfect, invigorates the liver and purifies and enriches the blood. It is the great blood-maker, flesh-builder and restorative nerve tonic. It makes men strong in body, active in mind and cool in judgement.

This "Discovery" is a pure, glyceric extract of American medical roots, absolutely free from alcohol and all injurious, habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients are printed on its wrappers. It has no relationship with secret nostrums. Its every ingredient is endorsed by the leaders in all the schools of medicine. Don't accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this time-proven remedy of known composition. Ask your neighbors. They must know of many cures made by it during past 40 years, right in your own neighborhood. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

Cow Vanquished Horse.

A quiet dairy cow resents being driven by a racehorse, as a man found out recently who was riding a valuable racehorse and offered to drive an old cow along a country road in New Zealand. The cow, becoming excited at the unusual circumstances of the clothed horse, rushed and gored and killed it, the rider being thrown and rendered incapable of averting the vicious attack.

Take the Game Seriously.

Girls play a strenuous game of hockey in Australia. In a recent game between the Waratah and Thistle clubs the casualties were one finger broken and another severely crushed, an eye blackened and a face irretrievably damaged, a knee bruised and shin cut so badly that the blood saturated a boot, several mouths cut and a number of shins sliced through shin pads.

The Model Hired Girl.

The following testimonial was given to a servant girl: "This is to certify that the bearer has been in my service one year less 11 months. During this time I found her to be diligent at the back door, temperate at her work, prompt at excuses, amiable toward young men, faithful to her sweethearts and honest when everything was safe under lock and key."

Sound Mind First.

A sound mind in a sound body is something to which no one can take exceptions, and the emphasis is rightly placed. The sound mind should come first. Quite likely the two are in a large measure interdependent, but we must never forget that it is the sound mind rather than the sound body which has done the work of the world.

The Brain's Eye.

R. W. Doane, in Medical Record, states that "eye" really exists in the brain. It is, in fact, a very compound thing, a subconscious brain judgment involving many other organs than the actual anatomical eyes. It involves knowledge, experience, very largely the sense of touch, and sometimes the sense of hearing or smell.

Doctors Said He Would Die

A Friend's Advice Saves Life

I wish to speak of the wonderful cure that I have received from your noted Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder cure. Last summer I was taken with severe pains in my back and sides. I could not breathe without difficulty and was nearly wild with the desire to urinate. Was compelled to do so every ten minutes with the passage of pure blood with the urine. I tried all the different doctors from far and near, but they said it was no use to doctor as I would die anyway. I was at the end of my rope and was so miserable with pain and the thought that I must die that words cannot tell how I felt. One day a friend told me of the wonderful help she had received from Swamp-Root. She gave me one of your pamphlets which I read and determined to try Swamp-Root. After taking half a bottle I felt better. Have now taken ten bottles and am well as I ever was, thanks to Swamp-Root. I wish to tell all suffering people that have kidney, liver or bladder trouble, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is the best medicine on the market. All persons doubting this statement can write to me and I will answer them directly.

Yours very truly,
